“ My beloved sister Sylvia and only sibling was a gentle soul who loved life, people, animals and nature. Foremost, she loved her kids like a mother lion and she sacrificed her life for them. Like a true God loving Catholic, she carried through life her love, forgiveness, compassion, and obedience like Jesus and lived by the words: "But I tell you, love your enemies, pray for those who persecute you and do good to those who hate you" and "forgive not seven times, but seventy seven times," and "love one another."

Sylvia was highly educated, smart and savvy; her interests in medicine, politics, human and animal issues, made her a sensitive advocate to end oppression and promote freedom, tolerance and equality.

Sylvia had a "green hand" to gardening and made her garden bloom throughout a year, because she was herself like a beautiful flower. Those who knew Sylvia, know her heart because she carried it on her sleeve, ready to be a friend to anyone at any time. I know she's in Heaven, because I knew her life and who she was inside-out, and although her soul is looking down on us, her energy and love is among us.

My words could never describe what a wonderful person you were my loving sister and how greatly you sacrificed yourself - Rest In Peace my dearest and beloved sister.
